BISHOP WHITNEY TO STUDENTS

Delivers Sermon at Logan.

Refers to the Disturbed Condition at Agricultural College.

Apostle Reed Smoot Will Address the Graduates on Tuesday; Gov. Cutler Will Also Speak.

Special to The Tribune. LOGAN, Umb, June 4.-The baccalaureate services of the Agricultural college were held this morning at the college chapel. Bishop O. F. Whitney preaching the sermon. The large rostrum was tastefully decorated with plants, with a background of evergreens covering the walls. The audience filled the large room, the overflow going to the gattery. On the overflow going to the gallery. On the platform were President Kerr and the faculty, with the exception of Professors Widtsoe and Merrill. Joseph Howell, Moses Thatcher, J. A. McAllister, Lorenzo Hansen, Joseph E. Cardon, Rev. Mr. Norfleet and Rev. Mr. Clemenson and Bishop Whitney were in the front row. The college choir furnished the music. Rev. Mr. Clemenson invoked divine blessing.

Bishop Whitney Introduced.

Bishop Whitney Introduced.

Then President Kerr introduced Bishop Whitney as the friend of education and of the college. The Bishop was happy In his opening and at once had the attention of the audience. He said his first baccalaureate sermon was delivered here ten years ago. He told of his futerest in Logan and its schools, and said. 'Edinborough has been called the Athens of the North: May not the time come when this school shall be called the Athens of the West?' The general topic of the discourse was education, and this, variously illustrated, was given a broad, generous treatment, considerable theology from the Bishop's point of view, being ingeniously worked in and made to do service.

Present Row in College.

Present Row in College.

Those who came expecting the preacher to say something bearing on the present disturbed conditions of the college did not come away altogether disappointed. Bishop Whitney expressed sympathy with the law that frees the State Institutions of learning from secturian and partisan interference and strongly deprecated any tendency in this direction. He paid his respects to agnosticism and unbellet in severe measures and heaped vigorous and withering condemnations on a profane press that forgets to respect the sacredness of religion and the convictions and finer feelings of its devotees.

The address was interesting, and delivered in good style and fine voice, and but for the fact that it was Sanday would at many points have evoked applause, being well in keeping with the public feeling here.

last night at the courthouse, the interest in a sugar factory for Sevier county is still the watchword of the people. The meeting was called to ascertain from the farmers of this district how many acres they will put into sugar bests noat year, 1989.

A committee was appointed last week by the business men to ascertain how much money could be raised and the same be offered as a bonus to the farmers of this district to raise augar bests the coming season. This committee reported that they had raised a little over $1000 to be given to the farmers.

It was agreed that this bonus is to be pold part this fall and the balance next suring when the bests are put in. It was also decided by the committee to not pay any bonus to any one who does not put in 7th acres. Those who plant 7th acres of beets will receive $1.50, 10 acres or more $2 per acre.

Mayor Heber C. Christenson was made chairman, and stated the object of the meeting and what an important one it was to the people of Sevier county.

William H. Seegmiller, George A. Beal, Stmon Christensen, William Ogden, J. B. Morrison and others made forceful arguments in or of securing a sugar factory, and inked the business and professional men for it offer, and guaranteed them they would all in their power to get the necessary

THE STATE PRESS.

A day or two ago one of our local saloon men was arrested for selling liquor to minors. He pleaded the excuse that the boys told him they were of age. Judge Horsley thought however, that a man's powers of observation must be wofully lacking to believe that such youngsters, who hain't the slightest sign of a beard, could be 21 years of age. The man was informed that if he didn't use a little better judgment he would find himself in serious trouble.—Brigham City News.

Parents ought to be more persistent in discouraging the dipper habit among the many little boys who roam the streets seeking what they might destroy. They should be taught that every little bird has a right to live and that the taking of life is the gravest erimowhen the act is performed unnecessarily. If the youngsters destroy only the snarrows they are doing more evil than good, because a few less sparrows will not make a great deal of difference to the stuff the birds might harm, and besides the growing desire to become experts with the flipper leads them to kill the pretty canaries that sing so sweetly and all birds that come within the range of their aim.—Cedar City Record.

A visit to the Blehmond condensed milks

A visit to the Richmond condensed milk factory impresses one with the idea that everything is thoroughly systematized. There are forty hands at work, and the plant runs till 12 o'clock h. in each day. Most of the hands are compelled to work on Sundays and holidays. The plant is now handling 2,000 pounds of milk daily, for which the farmers receive a higher price than at the old creameries. The farmers within a radius of three miles of the factory receive $5000 per month—Logan Republican.

Salt Linke lodge No. 2 was honored last Friday night by its first official visit of Grand Master C. A. Walker. He was accompanied by other grand lodge officials and the grand representatives. Thomas and Carbis. Greater importance was hidded to this visit by the presentation of pust grand master's jewels to Past Grand Masters George Arbogast and Edward Pearce. The first presentation was made by Grand Secretary P. A. Simpkin, the other by Past Grand Master E. D. Hoge, both of whom very happily expressed the worth and zeal of these brothers as the presiding officers of this order many years ago. The brothers, in feeling language, accepted the valuable gifts.

Past Grand Master J. J. Thomas now, in appropriate words, expressed the high esteem the order in Utah had for a worthy brother who labors hard for years for the upbailding of the order, especially here in Sait Lake, and who had filled acceptably the sighest offices in the gift of this jurisdiction. He then presented a veteran jewel to Past Grand Master E. D. Hoge, to replace the one the brother lost in the burning of the Atlas block some time ago. This was so unexpected that the brother for the first time, was at a loss for words to express himself. These events were highly enjoyed by the brothers, especially the scarlet degree members.

Protests Against Prize Fight in Zion

Congregation of Iliff Church Unanimously Protests Against the Proposed Mill on July 4.

At a well-attended Sunday evening serrice, the congregation at Diff church last evening unanimously protested against the holding of the proposed prize-fight in this city on July 4. No remarks were made by any member of the congrega-tion but when the paster of the church, Rev. D. M. Helmick, asked all who were opposed to the prize-fight being held in this city to manifest their opposition by a rising vote, every member of the con-gregation steed up. Pastor Brings Matter Up.

The matter was brought up by Rev Mr. Helmick just before the regular sermon last evening. He said be had noticed in the newspapers that arrangements were being made to have such an exhibition here on the anniversary of the nation's birth, and in support of the unqualified protest which he entered against it. Rev. Mr. Heimick said.

Not a Manly Art.

Instead of prise-fighting's being a manipurt it is simply an exhibition of two men thanding up to show how much abuse they can ake or give with the bodies that have been given them for nobler purposes. It is not a rood example to set before the young, it is not a good example for the people at large it is not ennobling in any way, shape or form.

Ought to Protest.

As a city, I think we ought to protest against such an exhibition, if we care for our city's reputation. There are probably not half a dozon citice in the United States whops such a thing could take place without a protest. Some States have enacted special legislation to prevent proposed fights, which legislation remains on the statute books of those States today, while others have laws that make it possible for the flovernor to call out the militar to prevent a prize fight, if it cannot be done in any other way.

Calls Upon People.

Highly-Bred Dogs the Cause of Trouble

Calm Which Usually Pervades Atmosphere of Quiet Neighborhood Is Rudely Shaken.

The calm which usually pervades the atmosphere in the vicinity of Kendall square was rudely shaken one evening last week, and such excitement reigned as has not been known there in many days. Now, the cause of this excitement was a pair of highly-bred dogs, the one belonging to the family which is noted for never letting go. He has heretofore answered to the name of "Kem," but those who watched him on Saturday night were in fevor of rechristening the youngster and calling him "Togo." The other party to the trouble was an innocent-looking little Scotch terrier, who boasts a pedigree nearly as long as a Salt Lake block.

Wont to Play Together.

Now, these same dogs are wont to play together each night on the lawn in front of Kendali square, but on Saturday night the terrier trespassed upon the preserves of "Kem." and, as they say of a patient in a hospital, "is still confined to his bed." In brief, the story is this: Story Told in Brief.

Kem was playing ball with his master. Rex, the terrier, intruded. He got the ball, Kem got Rex, and the way the bull-dog hung on to the terrier caused con-sternation among the belies and beaux, the parents and children. Deaf Man to Rescue.

Finally a deaf man, aroused by the cries of the women and children, came to the rescue and choked Kem off, but not until he had nearly ended the earthly career of the terrier and half the women and children had been drenched by the Ill-almed streams of water by which it was hoped the conflict might be ended.
